Blues Camp is a real free music camp for children. It was established at Columbia College Chicago on Monday, July 5, 2010. Blues Camp has been established successfully on 3 continents and the Caribbean.

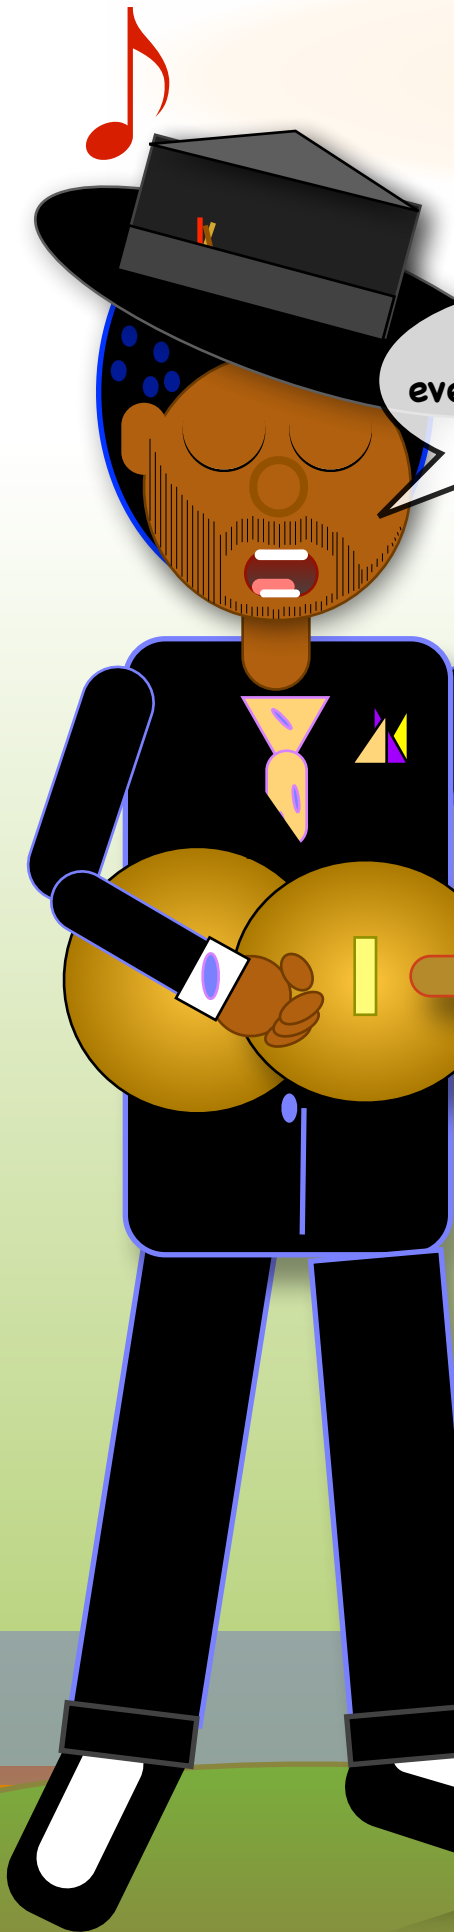

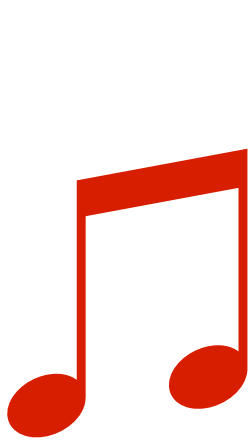

Essie, look over there!
Listen to that real cool sound.

Yeah, the man in the hat is really getting down!

Chicago has got everything you need.

Sir, excuse me.
We like that song?

My brother, Dean,
and I are musicians, too,
can we sing-a-long?

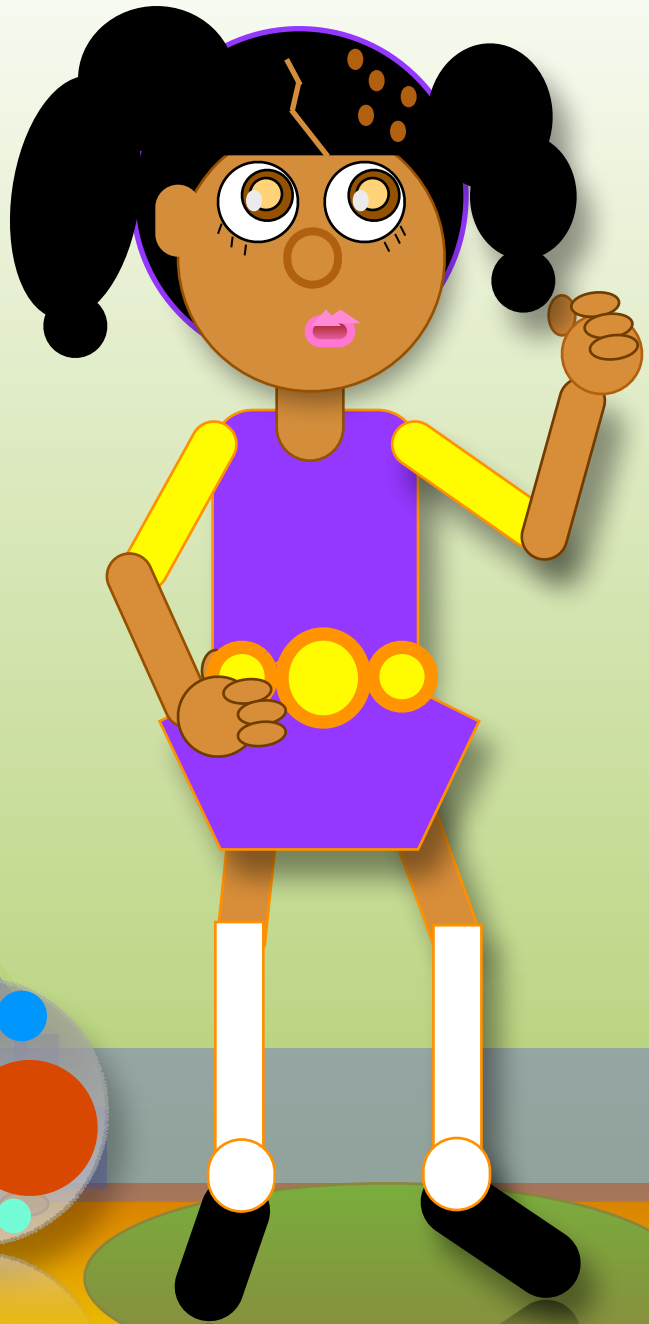

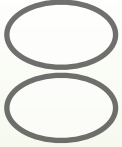

I wrote that song
for my hometown.
Because of my city
I'm very proud.

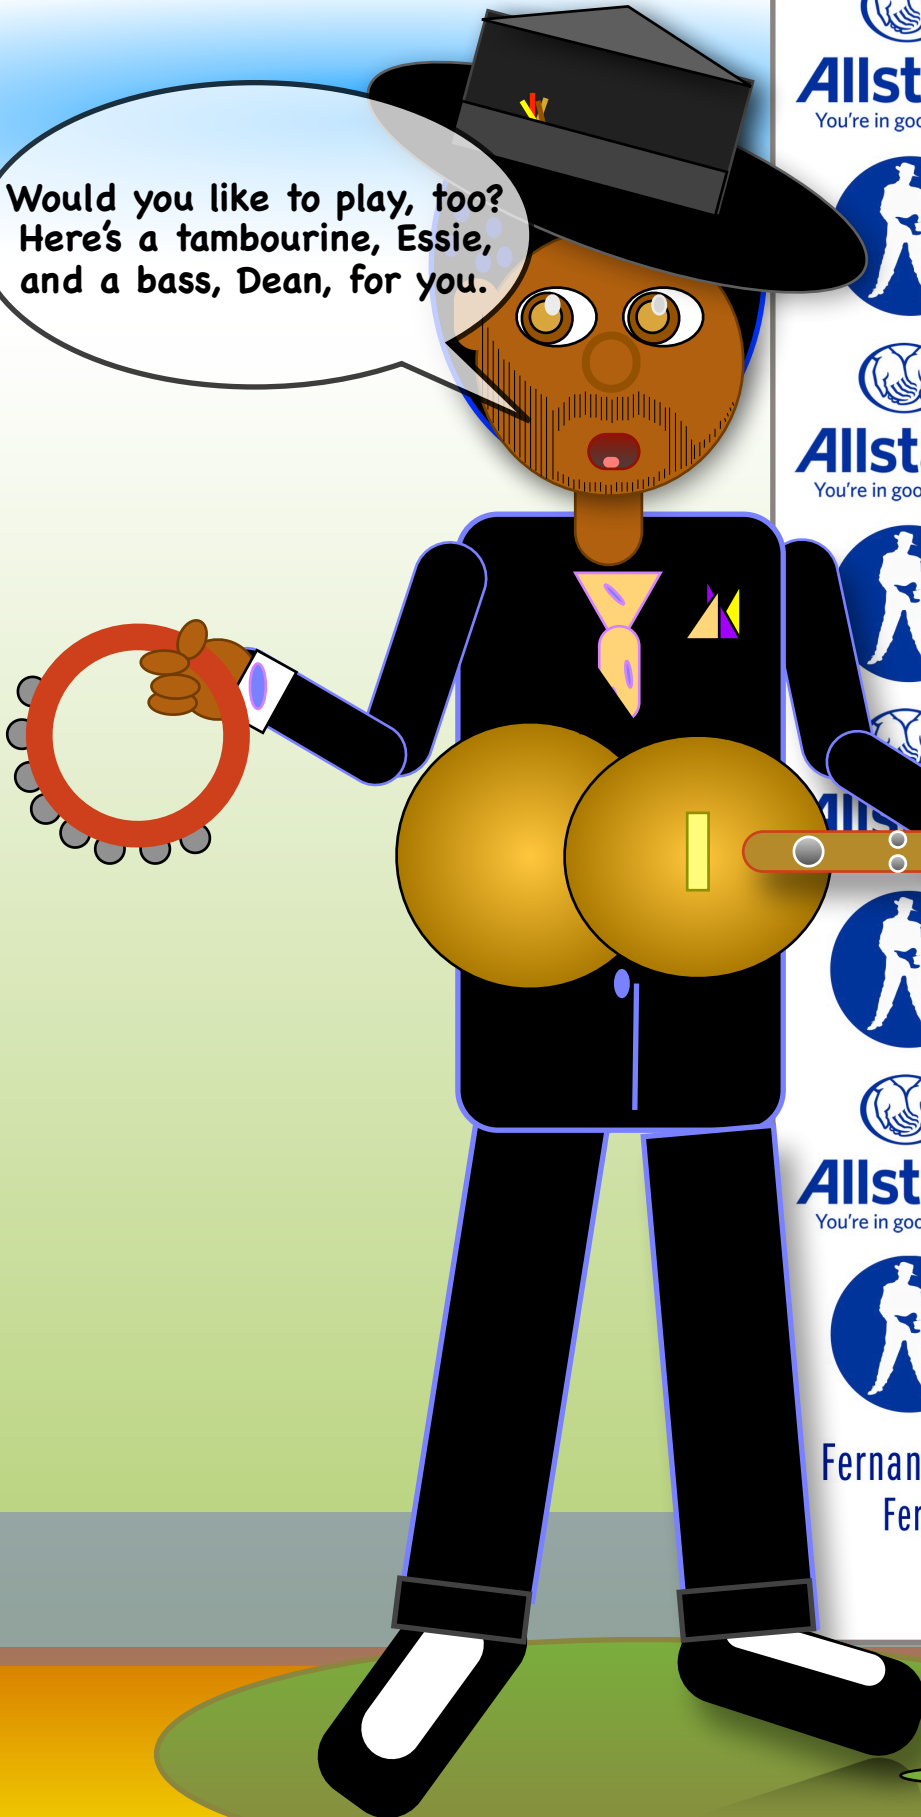

Awesome!!!

Would you like to play, too?
Here's a tambourine, Essie,
and a bass, Dean, for you.

Every Saturday
Mr. Jones plays in the park at noon
From July to December,
January to June.

His Shure microphone turns colors
when he sings.
And when he plays his Fender guitar
Through the park, music rings.

You might wonder
How the story ends.
Well, Essie & Dean came back,
One Saturday, to Blues Camp
With 5 of their Blues Camp friends.

Dan played the keyboard,
Kalani & Kalina beat the drums –
With Yoshi and Carmelita
All under the Saturday sun.

Essie twirled her tambourine,
Dean plucked the upright bass,
And the fun had that day
Shined like the sun on every face.
